

Film Stars in S. L. For Premiere

The Days of '47 celebration was given an added sparkle by the appearance of two pert young Hollywood starlets and two veteran character actors, who were in Salt Lake City Monday for a Hollywood-style premiere of the film, "That's My Boy."

The starlets, Marion Marshall and Polly Bergen, along with Eddie Mayehoff, are featured in the film attraction at Utah Theater, where they are scheduled to make an appearance at 8 p.m. Bill Demarest, well-known character actor, who appears with them, will act as master of ceremonies.

The stars will parade from Hotel Utah to a reviewing stand in front of The Salt Lake Tribune-Salt Lake Telegram Building at 7:45 p.m., where a short program is scheduled.

Days of '47 Queen Carol Lou Kimball greeted the first of the star arrivals, Miss Marshall, Sunday at the Pioneer Memorial Museum.